

Effective today, all visitors, attorneys, witnesses, spectators, law enforcement officers, prisoners, vendors, and all other non-court personnel, to any Unified Court System facility will be required to submit to temperature screening and questioning upon entry into the facility by New York State Court Officers and prior to magnetometer security screening.

If the visitor's registered temperature is less than 100.0° F., and the visitor answers "no" to the questions, the visitor shall be permitted to proceed to security screening.

If the visitor's registered temperature is equal to or greater than 100.0° F., or the visitor answers "yes" to any of the questions, the visitor will be questioned about their court business, given a recommended course of action and not permitted entrance to the building.
